A PUBLICATION OF GRACE FREE LUTHERAN CHURCH, VALLEY CITY, ND

1 Corinthians 1:1 Paul, called by the will of God to be an apostle of Christ Jesus, and our brother Sosthenes, 2 To the church of God that is in Corinth, to those sanctified in Christ Jesus, called to be saints together with all those who in every place call upon the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, both their Lord and ours: 3 Grace to you and peace from God our Father and the Lord Jesus Christ. 4 I give thanks to my God always for you because of the grace of God that was given you in Christ Jesus, 5 that in every way you were enriched in him in all speech and all knowledge- 6 even as the testimony about Christ was confirmed among you- 7 so that you are not lacking in any spiritual gift, as you wait for the revealing of our Lord Jesus Christ, 8 who will sustain you to the end, guiltless in the day of our Lord Jesus Christ. 9 God is faithful, by whom you were called into the fellowship of his Son, Jesus Christ our Lord.

It is so good to know that we are not alone. One of the regular attacks of the Devil is to make us feel like we are all alone. The tactic of the Devil is to try and separate us from our faithful God as well as the loving care of believing Christians. A church filled with problems, like the one in Corinth, might have a number of people wondering whether they were alone. They might have asked themselves, “With all these problems are we still a part of the body of Christ?”

The first verses of the letter from Paul would then have come to them as a great encouragement. They are receiving a letter from the Apostle Paul, called by God for the purpose of sharing the truth and he is including them with saints in other locations who also call upon the name of Jesus Christ. They are not alone they are part of something much bigger. They are, with all believers, part of Christ’s bride, the Church.

Paul’s letter describes how he can speak with such authority. He came to be an apostle by the call of God. No one comes to faith or faithful service in God’s kingdom without His call. Paul’s service, as well as the Corinthian’s membership in the Church are acts of a gracious God who wants to shower His love upon them.

His overflowing mercy is shown in the greeting that Paul extends to the Corinthians. The Church in Corinth included Gentiles, those who were not Jewish, who would have used as a regular greeting the word, grace. The Church in Corinth would have also included Jewish believers who would have been more accustomed to using, shalom, “peace,” as their customary greeting. By joining these two greetings together the Apostle makes clear that the Lord has called Jews and Gentiles to be a part of His kingdom. We should continue to be reminded that God is calling people from every tongue, tribe, and nation to receive grace and peace from His hand. He provides these through faith in His One and Only Son Jesus Christ.

In verses four through six, Paul speaks a little of how he prays for the Corinthian Church. He thanks God for them because of what God has already provided to them. Certainly, they have many struggles and sins to deal with – the rest of the book will lay those things out. But those things should not twist or distort the truth concerning what God has already given them. He has provided to them the great good news – the Gospel of Jesus Christ. The greatness of this gift should never be diminished.

In verse seven we read, “so that you are not lacking in any spiritual gift, as you wait for the revealing of our Lord Jesus Christ.” Here as Paul writes to the Corinthians, he helps us understand one of the activities of the Christian: waiting. We are a waiting people. Not inactive – we have been given many things to do before the Lord Jesus returns. Not inactive – but busy in our waiting – serving, loving, praying – expecting the day of His return. Looking forward to that day with expectation. As Christians, we look to see the time when the Lord’s promises are fulfilled. We have what we need now as Christians – the promises of God – we cherish them and cling to them and wait for the day when they will all be fulfilled by our gracious Savior.

Quickly following that, we see how that waiting can happen. God is the one who sustains us in this waiting. You and I know that waiting can be hard. We want to have things now. We want to know things now. We want to see things now. But as Christians we wait. Where does the strength for this come from? Where does the patience needed for this come from? From our Savior Jesus Christ who will sustain us unto the end. Until that day when He fulfills all His promises for us.

In our last verse, Paul writes to the Corinthians about the faithfulness of God. We often note that as he shares this letter with the Corinthians it clearly states their many acts of unfaithfulness. But the Corinthian’s sins are not the focus. The focus is the faithful acts of mercy from God who can be trusted in completely. Because He is faithful all that He says will come to be. This includes His promise to forgive all those who confess their sins and to welcome into His eternal rest all who believe. May the Lord grant to you faith in the Lord who is faithful, trusting in the work of Jesus Christ for you. Amen.

AFLC Ministry Focus for January

AFLC HOME Missions

AFLC Home Missions exists to help plant free, living, Lutheran congregations.

Home Missions is planting congregations that align with the DNA that we have inherited from our Lutheran Free Church and AFLC heritage.

Pray for current Home Missions sponsored congregations:

- Living Stone: Chinese Lutheran Fellowship
St. Paul, MN
- Hope Free Lutheran
Killdeer, ND
- Emmanuel Lutheran
Ankeny, IA

The Home Missions Department also oversees the AFLC Alaska Mission, which serves to bring Christ's message of saving grace to people in Alaskan villages through congregational worship, radio, and aviation.

- FLAPS operates three small airplanes out of the village of Naknek, Alaska. The airplanes are used to fly pastors, lay preachers, and VBS teams out to about ten villages within 125 miles of Naknek in SW Alaska.

- BAY BROADCASTING operates KAKN, a commercial non-profit FM Christian radio station that serves the Bristol Bay area around Naknek. Listen to KAKN online at kakn.org or stream via Tunein.com.
- THE NET is an internet cafe in Naknek where coffee and baked goods are free and people from all over the world hear about the free gift of salvation.
